

I am writing in defense of the New Jersey DO NOT CALL Act. Before this was put into effect, I received three to five solicitation calls DAILY! I have a RIGHT to my privacy, and a RIGHT not to be disturbed in the sanctity of my own home. "I" pay for my phone line, NOT the solicitors, so I should be allowed to say NO to unsolicited telephone sales calls. It's my PRIVATE line! This is no different than putting a NO TREASPASSING sign at the edge of my property, or placing a NO SOLICITING sign in front of my home.

Why would a telephone salesperson want to talk to me anyway? I only get vicious and nasty, use abusive language, and would NEVER buy anything for fear it would encourage more telephone sales calls. The DO NOT CALL list is as much a service to telephone solicitors as it is to me! It's like a warning sign about a dog that bites!

New Jersey's DO NOT CALL Act should be extended to Faxes and Junk Mail, too!!!!!!
